

Artisanal fresh cream butter

Cod.: 00145

This butter, which we consider to be of above-average quality, is still produced by hand by churning fresh cream from the centrifuge. The fresh cream, in turn, comes exclusively from Italian milk. The result is a product with an old-fashioned flavour, a taste that is not homologated, it is worth smelling it before tasting it, excellent to eat on bread, so raw, for breakfast or as an appetiser, but also to whip first courses, to make desserts, or on any other preparation in the kitchen, it will give that extra touch.

It is straw-coloured in summer when the cows feed on grass, and slightly lighter in winter when they feed on hay. It has a pleasant creamy aroma and an unmistakable, delicate flavour, obtained from the fermentation of the cream by selected ferments.
